Ya Tut (I am here)
Sashiko threads and DMC threads on linen
32x22cm

(The title is a quote from Volodymyr Zelenskyy's moving and inspiring speech at the start of the invasion. He spoke to his people whilst surrounded by his senior military and government officials and reassured them, "Ya tut", I am here.)

The design is abstract, however each cell represents a home, and each knot represents a person. The piece is also a message from the Ukrainian citizens to the Russian invaders. Ya tut, I am here.
